Terms and Conditions

Under Copyright Law no public performance or reading of a protected play may be given, either in its entirety or in the form of excerpts, without the prior consent of the owner of the copyright. As agents for the copyright owners we issue licences for performances on payment of a fee. We cannot be held responsible for any loss of revenue resulting from a production being refused.

No changes of any kind may be made to the script without the permission of the author/agent. This includes changing the sex of the characters and cutting out 'bad' language. Please provide details of any planned changes with your application form.

If a production is cancelled, a refund can be granted for up to a week before the production is due to start. In this event, it is necessary to return the licence to Methuen Drama.

If there are plans to film a production, this must be for archival use only, with one copy only being retained, and must be cleared with the agent/author at the time of requesting permission.

From time to time it may be necessary for Methuen Drama to withdraw or restrict the amateur performing rights of certain plays. It is therefore in your own interest to apply for permission before committing to a production.
